The President's Message

Bill Miller

As 1987 draws to a close, we as a club have much to reflect on and be thankful for. Our greatest accomplishment of the year obviously was the publication of Maryland Merchant Tokens, by David Schenkman. While we have met most of our financial obligations concerning the book, one major loan is still outstanding, and that is the interest-free loan from the Maryland State Numismatic Association (MSNA). If everyone could get out and sell a copy of our catalog we could give the MSNA a nice Christmas present, and retire at least a portion of the loan.

And speaking of the MSNA, I hope that everyone remembers that we are a host club for the next MSNA convention in June. We will be manning the reception table on the first day (Friday, June 10), so make your arrangements to help now.

At our last meeting, which was held at the New Carrollton Sheraton Inn on October 17, we had 22 members and one guest present. Our meetings are always a good place to meet friends, exchange information, swap tokens, and enjoy the fellowship of other collectors. The auction is always top notch and I believe that everyone has a good time. Why not join us?

Our next meeting will be held at the Central Branch of the Enoch Pratt Library in downtown Baltimore. While parking may be more of a challenge, hopefully the opportunity to become familiar with the library's research materials will prove to be worth the extra effort. For those who do not wish to drive, the subway could serve as an alternative means of transportation (don't forget to use a token!).

So, until our next meeting, I would like to wish everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, and urge everyone to get out there and do something for the good of the club.

THE LONELY LIFE OF AN EDITOR

I had an editorial all ready for typing describing the lonely feelings of an editor waiting to hear from members ... but then, out of the clear, I receive two great articles. Hallelujah ! Whole number 34 is saved! And wouldn't you know...the articles came from Jane Sears and Millard Hajek... the two most prolific contributors to the pages of MD TAMS Journal. Thanks Jane and Mill, just when I thought there was no one out there in MD TAMS land you came to my rescue. My big Christmas wish is for more members to try their hands at writing about their tokens. Consider a New Years resolution, you'll be surprised at how rewarding an experience it can be to see an article in print with your name listed as the author. Not only that, but my backlog is again close to zero... so the society needs your help....

I have been clipping token articles from other journals and papers and will use some of them during the new year. If you see any good articles in other publications or have any newsreleases or events of interest to our members, please write it up and send it to me. Don't just send me notes as I make time to edit, but not to write your articles. Type it up if you can, but if you can't, send it to me and I'll try to make the time to use my two finger typing skills to get the job done. Give it a try....

We also could use some ads for the journal as I would like to see the journal pay for itself... any dealers out there like to take out an ad?

I know this is a busy time of the year, so why don't you wait until the new year to write your article... I hope you will all enjoy the holidays and let's all hope for a great NEW YEAR in 1988 for MD TAMS. Peace to you all.

MARYLAND SIGNERS OF THE UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION

By Millard W. Hajek LM #1

A previous article in the Summer, 1987 issue of the MD TAMS Journal introduced you to the "Volksmarch". That particular event was sponsored by the Columbia Volksmarch Club whose theme for their three marches in 1987 was to honor the three signers of the United States Constitution from Maryland. A badge was issued for one of the signers at each of their volksmarch. So, three volksmarches later for a total distance of 30 kilometers or 18.6 miles, I've completed the set and thus, this article.

The first volksmarch was held on March 14-15, 1987 in Cedar Lane Park, Howard County, Maryland and honored James Mc Henry. He was born into a Scots-Irish family in the province of Ulster in 1753. At 18, he was the first of his family to immigrate to America, settling in Philadelphia and serving as an apprentice to one of America's foremost physicians. While learning medical skills, he also embraced the Revolutionary cause, working as a civilian in the Cambridge military hospital as a volunteer assistant surgeon. He soon was serving as a full-fledged surgeon with a commission in the Continental Army. Assigned to the 5th Pennsylvania Battalion that had as its mission to construct and defend Fort Washington near Manhattan Island, Mc Henry was one of five physicians and 2,000 soldiers captured by the British when the plan to hold the fort failed. He spent his captivity caring for the sick and wounded prisoners of war until paroled. Later Mc Henry joined the Army again at Valley Forge where General Washington noticed him. In 1778 Washington selected him to serve as assistant secretary on his staff. After the war, Mc Henry resigned his commission to enter Maryland politics where he served for 18 years on the state legislature. Between 1783 and 1786, he sat in the Continental Congress and the following year he represented Maryland at the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia.

DANIEL OF ST. THOMAS JENIFER

The second volksmarch was held on June 27-28, 1987 in Centennial Park, Howard County, Maryland and honored Daniel of St. Thomas Jenifer. Daniel of St. Thomas Jenifer (1723-1790), of Annapolis, was a wealthy landowner and merchant, and very involved in the formation of his new country. He served in the Lower and Upper Houses of Charles County, as well as the Senate of the Western Shore, and twice was an unsuccessful candidate for governor of Maryland. Two of the commissions on which he served resulted in the Mason-Dixon boundary settlement in 1760 and agreement on the joint use of the Chesapeake Bay and the Potomac River in Maryland and Virginia.

Although his military record is unclear, it was said that he was very helpful in getting supplies for the Continental Army. In 1778, he was made a delegate to the Continental Congress, and in 1787 a delegate to the Federal Convention that formed the Constitution. Jenifer was the second signer for Maryland at Independence Hall in Philadelphia. Jenifer's views were nationalistic, favoring a permanent union of the states. He was wary of Congress's desire to print paper money, but at the same time, in favor of Congress having the power to establish taxes. His private philanthropy included donating money toward the St. John's College, and helping to send the painter, John Wilson Peale, to London to study. When he died, he left a large estate to his nephew, as Jenifer never married. He also left instructions that his slaves be freed after his death.

Maryland's delegation to the Convention included both signers and nonsigners. In addition to the three signers honored on badges by the volksmarches, the nonsigners were Luther Martin and John Mercer. Martin left the Convention early in a fit of frustration while Mercer attended for only a very brief period.

The third volksmarch was held on November 14-15, 1987 in Savage Park (Howard County) Savage, Maryland and honored the third and last signer from Maryland, Daniel Carroll. Daniel Carroll (1730-1796) was from the distinguished Carroll family for which Carroll County was named. He married his cousin Eleanor, whose first cousin was Charles Carroll of Carrollton who signed the Declaration of Independence. His brother John was appointed head of the Roman Catholic Church of America, and founded Georgetown University in 1789.

Daniel Carroll served as a delegate to the Senate of the Western Shore from 1781 to 1790, often filling the role of president during this time. He was a member of the Executive Council of Maryland from 1777 to 1781, then was elected to attend the Continental Congress, followed by an appointment to the Constitutional Convention.

Carroll was the first signer of the Constitution for Maryland, and is credited with much of the work in forming the first admendment. He was the only Catholic to sign the Articles of Confederation in 1781. His career continued with his election to the United States Congress as a representative. He was later appointed by George Washington to survey the District of Columbia, and was on the first Board of Commissioners for the District, which formed plans for the formation of the capital city.

We must celebrate the Constitution as the ongoing struggle of a people committed to liberty, not just as revealed wisdom that magically appeared to a selected group of men 200 years ago. The Constitution is much more than just a "Miracle at Philadelphia". Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall said:"the true miracle was not the birth of the Constitution, but its life." And ordinary citizens in their day-to-day struggles are what make ours a living Constitution.

MARYLAND MERCHANT TOKENS

by DAVID E. SCHENKMAN

The Maryland Token and Medal Society wishes to announce the publishing of a significant new reference work covering Maryland merchant tokens. The deluxe hardbound 248 page volume covers more than 2200 tokens from 225 towns in Maryland. Format is in large size (8 1/2 x 11) and is extensively illustrated. A total of 25 deluxe numbered limited edition volumes were printed along with 500 regular circulation copies.

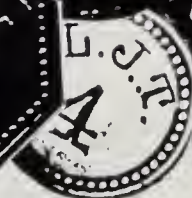

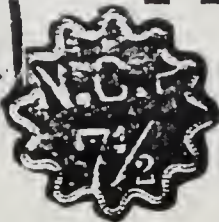

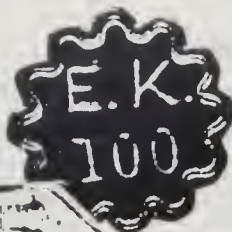

In preparing this work Mr. Schenkman goes to far greater detail than the usual state token catalog. A large amount of annotation with historical information about the token issuing merchants is included. Interesting sections on token manufacturers such as S. D. Childs, Cussions, May and Sheppard, Dorman's Stencil and Stamp works and Frances X. Koehler are also included in the introductory section.

As the title suggests the book only includes merchant, advertising and trade tokens. Other types of tokens such as transportation, parking, military have been omitted due to previous cataloging in other works. For the most part tokens issued after the 1950's have also been excluded as have such items as wooden nickles, encased pennies, and plastic food stamp tokens. The other significant series not included is the Anne Arundel County farm pickers checks. Another Md. Tams member has been cataloging these tokens for several years and plans to eventually publish a similar catalog.

Arrangement of the listings within the catalog is in alphabetical form by town name followed by an identifying number. Each token is fully described by obverse and reverse, size, shape, metallic composition and rarity. Schenkman's rarity guide decisions are based upon years of experience in collecting, buying and selling, and reviewing many Maryland collections during the production phases of this book.

Copies of the book may be ordered from MD. TAMS 44 Greenmeadow Dr. Timonium, MD. 21093 Cost is $45.00 each postpaid. Quantity discounts are available for dealers and wholesalers. This volume is the standard reference work for Maryland tokens and should be added to every collectors library.

A Continuing Study of Anne Arundel County Farm Pickers Checks.

MORE NEW CHECKS...the story continues...

Several new picker checks have surfaced during the past few months. The Ann Arrundell County Historical Society received 335 checks from a relative of Adam Alexander Shipley last month. The brass tokens included 13 new varieties of the A.A.S. series. The inventory included:

5 - Sc - be - 22mm - 66

20 BU - Oc - be - 29mm - 11

500 BU R - be - 28mm - 21 (AAS in script)

(All of the above tokens have the value on the reverse)

The society also received a nice picker check box with the above tokens. The box is homemade from an old wooden ammo box from the U.S. Army vintage pre-World War I.

The AACo Historical Society also received 1,459 tokens from the farm of William Landy Cook (1866-1968). Their farm was located on Mountain Road near Pinehurst. A box was also included in the deal. The ten new varieties are as follows:

Value	shape	edge	size	#donated
1½	- R	- be	- 22mm	244 of both
1½	- R	- pe	- 21mm	varieties of 1½
2¢	- R	- pe	- 21mm	138
7½	- Sc(6)	- pe	- 19mm	184
10	- R	- fe	- 24mm	150

The historical society has set a few sets aside for collectors, but most of the tokens will be made into jewelry. Visit the Browse and Buy Shop (Bensen-Hammond House) just off Hammonds Ferry Road adjacent to the BWI airport.

OUR VICE-PRESIDENT...

Dear Md. TAMS Member:

As you already know, the Maryland State Numismatic Association will hold its 16th annual convention and coin show on June 10-12, 1988 at a new location - Festival Hall, next door to the Baltimore Convention Center. A few months ago Md. TAMS was selected as a host club for this convention. Being a host club involves, in part, having a few members as chairmen of key committees; President Bill Miller has volunteered to head the education committee and Will Mumford has taken on leadership of the Young Numismatist program.

Having a couple of people representing the society as committee chairmen, however, does not nearly fulfill our responsibilities as a host club. To fully do so, you are needed to represent Md. TAMS at the registration desk on one day during the convention, for no more than a couple of hours of registering visitors and selling raffle tickets and convention souvenirs. Friday, June 10 is the day for Md. TAMS to work at the registration desk; your assistance will not cause you to miss the society's meeting on Saturday, June 11.

If you are as willing to help Md. TAMS raise funds, through total convention support, as I believe you are, then write to me (please include your phone number) at the society's address to say so. The 1988 convention has much potential for being one of the very best MSNA conventions in years. Its success will require your help in keeping it working smoothly. Volunteer today.

Respectfully,

Bryce Doxzon, Vice-President
